DEFENCE OF MR. EATON,

CONTINUED.

Copy of a Letter.

Commodore Morris to the Bey of Tunis.
United States frigate Chesapeake.

Tunis Bay, Feb. 24, 1803.

To his Excellency, the Bey of Tunis.

Your Excellency,

I regret that a misrepresentation of facts should have induced your Excellency to make the demands as stated by Mr. Eaton, consul for the United States, viz. immediate restitution of the imperial vessel captured by the United States schooner, Enterprize, belonging to the squadron under my command.

I trust, however, when your excellency is made acquainted with the facts relative to the capture, you will acquiesce in the right the commander of the said schooner had to detain that vessel for adjudication. The vessel captured under an imperial flag had on board subjects of the regency of Tripoli, one of which is principal in the charter party, and owner of the greater proportion of the cargo, destined for the port of Tripoli.

To satisfy your Excellency more fully on the subject, if any doubts can remain, I have no objections to show the papers of the said vessel to such of your principal officers as you may think proper to send on board the United States frigate, Chesapeake. The papers will be sent to Gibraltar, and if the admiralty court at that place will take cognizance of the capture, I shall abide by their decision, whatever it may be. Should the whole or any part of her cargo be condemned, it is not in my power to deprive the captors of the right which the laws of their country authorized. You may readily imagine that the enemies of the United States would gladly avail themselves of any opportunity to engage your Excellency's interference in their behalf without any respect to truth, or consideration of the consequences. But from your Excellency's reputed good understanding and the particular manifestations of the government of the United States to preserve peace and friendship with your regency, I have no doubt but you will feel a particular pleasure in detecting the authors of these false and unfounded representations, and treating them with that severity their base designs merit. I also feel satisfied that your Excellency will see the propriety of cautioning your subjects from having any commercial transactions with the enemies of the United States, particularly when their ports may be in a state of blockade; and also of withdrawing your determination to make reprisals on the commerce of the United States, so that you may preserve that good understanding which at present exists between the two governments, and which the president of the United States is so desirous to continue.

I beg that a decisive answer may be given me as speedily as possible, either through the medium of the Consul of the United States, or through any other channel that may be most agreeable to yourself; and by which my conduct shall be regulated, until the same can be communicated to the government which I have the honor to represent; and further, I beg leave to inform your Excellency that if the court of admiralty should adjudge that the cargo, or any part thereof, should be restored to the former owners, with compensation for detention, it shall be done without delay.

I have the honor to be,
With perfect consideration,
Your Excellency's
Most obedient servant,
(Signed)
RICHARD V. MORRIS, Commander in chief of the United States squadron in the Mediterranean.

Copy—Communication to the Secretary of State.
Tunis, 4th March, 1803.

Sir,

On the 22d ult. 8 o'clock, A. M. commodore Morris, in the United States frigate, Chesapeake, with the frigates, John Adams and New York, anchored in the road of the Goulette. On their appearance in the offing I sent my drogoman for the Bey's permission to go on board. He returned at eleven with a refusal. The Bey required that the commodore should previously report himself. I immediately started for the Goulette, and under pretence of going on board the schooner Enterprize, permission for which I held, passed the commandant of the castle, and went to the squadron. Next day made a report, and obtained a pass in form. Commodore Morris had already received my letter of the 26th January, stating the Bey's reclamation for the prize, reported in my communications of February 1st. I now put into his hands the information of which enclosure A is a copy. On the 24th the commodore wrote the Bey enclosure B, which I delivered the same day. The Bey proposed the commodore should come ashore, and that the validity of the prize should be verified at Tunis, signifying at the same time, in unequivocal terms, that if the proposition was not acceded to, he would declare war. On the 25th I reported this answer to the commodore; in consequence of which, on the 26th, he descended ashore; but was not admitted to audience till the 28th. The ground of argument relative to the Bey's reclamation, which has heretofore been detailed, was not gone over again, and the commodore had declared his intention to order the prize to Gibraltar for adjudication, when the Bey explicitly told him that except the investigation should be had on the spot, and the property belonging to his subjects restored, he would place the United States in the same situation as they were with Tripoli. The commodore consented on condition that the Bey would rest the issue on the evidence to be deduced from the regular papers found on board the prize; and that he would waive all pretensions to such property as should not appear bona fide to belong to his subjects. To this the Bey agreed, and an officer was sent on board for the papers—but, by reason of contrary winds, did not arrive till the 1st inst.

At the audience with the Bey he insisted on his right of commerce with Tripoli in defiance of an actual blockade—although he would consent that we might turn away his vessels. This right was contested. The Bey replied that we might, if we please capture his vessels; but that we should in the issue lose two for one. The commodore met this menace by signifying that, in case of resorting to reprisals, by way of indemnity, against regular captures, he might possibly lose three for one. The question was then asked the Bey whether, in case of seizure on our part of contraband articles destined to Tripoli by his subjects, he should think of reclaiming such articles? He answered, "We Turks are not in the habit of thinking for futurity—it will be seasonable enough to discuss the subject when circumstances should make it necessary."

On the 27th and 28th the commodore had interviews at the American house, with ****, the agent of Hammet Bashaw, who stated that the Bashaw waited only for the co-operation of our squadron to proceed to invest Tripoli; that he could bring to the assault thirty thousand troops; but that he should have need of fifteen or twenty barrels of powder, and fifteen thousand dollars to assist his operations. The commodore refused any subsidy, but agreed to furnish twenty barrels of powder, and engaged to bring his force before Tripoli, in the month of June ensuing, to co-operate with Hammet Bashaw. The agent requested the commodore to give him passage to Derna, in order, without delay, to communicate this arrangement to the Bashaw. This was not convenient. The critical state of affairs at Algiers required the immediate appearance of the squadron at that place, and want of provisions would oblige them to proceed thence to Gibraltar.

At half past eleven o'clock A. M. 2d inst. the papers of the prize in question came on shore, and at 4 P. M. the Bey's commercial agent, accompanied with the principal proprietor in the cargo, and the master of the vessel, attended at the American house to examine the facts. It appeared from the manifest that this claimant had, bona fide, a considerable share in the cargo, and the commodore agreed to order its restitution. Thus it appears that the appearance of our squadron has tranquilized our affairs here for the moment.

I have the honor to be,
Sir, with respect,

Your most obt. servant,

Wm. EATON.

A true statement of facts.

Tunis, March 4, 1803.

(Signed) RICH. V. MORRIS.

The above transactions stated by Mr.

Eaton, and signed by commodore Morris, took place in my presence, are collected with my notes, and are a true and concise statement of facts. In testimony of which, I hereunto subscribe my name.

(Signed)

JAMES L. CATHCART.

orders for putting that island in a posture of defence; together with five transports having on board 3000 troops, an ample supply of ammunition and military stores.
Off Barbadoes, an English frigate fired a gun, and brought to one of the French transports, and boarded her; in consequence of which the governor of Martinique had dispatched a message to the Governor of Barbadoes, demanding the reason of this insult. The answer had not been received when captain A. failed.

(Salem Gaz.)

The ship Providence, Taylor, of Philadelphia, lying at Helvoet, and bound for Louisiana with troops, was on the 20th April driven foul of the Bregitta Elizabeth on San Frederick, Went, from Surrinam, and damaged; the latter ship lost her bowsprit and foremast; and the cable by which she was secured, afterwards breaking, she ran foul of the French frigate la Foreuse, and carried away her main and mizen, and all her rigging.— The frigate likewise is damaged.

CONSTITUTION FRIGATE.

On Thursday last, the novel and interesting operation of heaving down the Constitution frigate, for the purpose of re-coppering her, was performed here, under the direction of Commodore Preble.
The preparations for this experiment evinced his judgement, intelligence and enterprise. This stout ship was hove down, by a purchase leading from the main and fore-mast heads, to Colonel May's wharf, which had previously been prepared for the purpose: Each mast had been strengthened by two oak fitches; and in addition to shrouds, they were supported by five careening pendants at the main and four at the fore-mast heads; set up to as many out-riggers projecting from the gun deck ports; the out-riggers secured by gammoning to bolts in the ship's bottom. This operation has been performed without either straining the ship, or parting a rope-yarn; although we have seen from conversation with those acquainted therewith that owing to the construction of the ship, she heaves down harder than a ship of the line. The workmen commenced recoppering on Thursday morning, when her keel was hove out, and her larboard side was completed yesterday afternoon. The copper is from the furnace of Col. Revere, at Canton; it is the first ever manufactured in the U. S. and will not suffer by comparison with the best sheets imported. (Bost. pap.)

A striking difference between the Fed- eral and democratic administrations.

When the Federalists were in power, the nation had received injuries by sea from France backed by the insult of demanding fifty thousand dollars as a preliminary to negotiation. American were then animated with a spirit which expressed itself in the concise and energetic sentiment, "Millions for defence—not a cent for tribute." Now, when injuries have been received from Spain by land, and when, of course we might have repelled and avenged them, we have not attempted to do ourselves justice, but have had recourse to a pusillanimous negotiation, preceded by an offer of Two Millions of dollars to facilitate the "foreign intercourse," so that the burden of the song here is,
"Millions for tribute—not a cent for defence."

POLITICAL SKETCHES.

No. I.

SPECULATIONS on civil government often prove fallacious from the circumstance of their being founded on too flattering an opinion of human nature.
Man is regarded as a creature, that loves the light of truth and is obedient to the dictates of reason: every movement of his soul (unless clouded with ignorance) is in a supposed harmony with the social and general interests; every cord of his heart vibrates in unison with the public good.
The people labour under no contamination but such as has proceeded from bad forms of government and from vicious rulers.
"Unshackle them, says the theorist, from systems of monarchy and hierarchy; free them from the absurd prejudices with which they have been loaded by villainous politicians and priests, and they will never fail to judge and to act correctly.
Give them but freedom and the means of political knowledge, and, with undeviating steps, would they tread the path of wisdom. The public good would be their pole star. The divinity would stir within them; from a state of "perfectabili-ty," they would soon mount up to the prond pinnacle of perfection itself: all their deeds would wear the amiable marks of justice and humanity, and their voice would be unerring like the voice of God.
Power, derived from them, is drawn from a pure source; in their hands it is always safe; and when exercised according to their discretion, it can never prove oppressive."

On these principles, the closet visionary weaves his political speculations. However corrupt are individuals, he regards the people, as an aggregate body, in the light of beings uncontaminated and pure; or if this venerable body be stained with a little adventitious corruption, he confidently believes it would eventually be purged off, if the people were left to manage their own concerns in their own way.

Rulers, from the beginning of the world to the present day, especially if they have been called by the odious name of kings, he believes to have been little better than incarnate devils; while the people he clothes with the attributes of deity.— Hence, from his own distempered imagination, and in a totally wrong view of human nature, he spins out political theories, which are ingeniously absurd. The wise headed people, he thinks, can demolish, build up, alter and regulate forms and systems of government, with as much facility and accuracy as an ingenious mechanic may take in pieces a watch, scour its wheels, renew its springs, correct its regulator, and put it together again without misplacing a single pin.

Godwin's Political Justice and the writings of the French Philosophists are fraught with visionary ideas such as have now been mentioned. They have circulated extensively; they have been read with avidity; and millions have drunk the intoxicating poison. Flattery is delicious: among all delicacies, this is the sweetest morsel to the human palate. It is with raptures of delight, people hear that they are "wise as serpents and harmless as doves;" that their judgment is correct and their dispositions equitable and amiable; that, in their collective capacity, they can do no wrong, and that their voice is the voice of God. Yet let the truth be told, tho' it be to unwilling ears. In the august presence of truth, these mental visions are dissipated like mists before the sun. Upon Herschel, Saturn, Jupiter, or some other of the surrounding planets, there possibly may be a superior order of creatures whose nature and character comport with the flattering description of the disciples of the new school; but in vain might we search for such an order of creatures upon this earth.

There is a monstrous principle of selfishness in human nature, that is the great source of all those bitter waters which flow over the world. It is this that portions social happiness and rents in piece those systems of government, which are most friendly to the general rights of mankind. A curious mechanic may make a watch, whose movements shall be exactly regular and uniform; because he adjusts each part to its proper place, and each part keeps the place assigned it; but if the several parts of the watch, by some magic power, were seemingly endowed with a locomotive faculty and with the discordant principle of selfishness, inasmuch that the pins should thrust themselves into the place of the regulatory, and the wheels into that of the main spring, it is easy to see that the machine would be thrown into disorder and confusion. Thus, comparing small things with great, a system of free government the best that human wisdom could devise; nay, one that should proceed from the immediate dictates of divine inspiration, would be liable to be quickly arrested in its operations and rendered futile.

Were human nature purged of its dross and possessed of angelical purity, it would be easy to fence against all invasion of the rights of man; or rather, no attempts to invade his rights would ever happen: but as in all preceding ages, so in the present state of the world, the general predominance of selfishness and the dark intrigues, and the violent and discordant gusts of passions which it engenders, lead directly from the utmost extreme of liberty down to the gloomy and horrid abyss of despotism. Craft easily enlists ignorance in its party and service; hypocrisy leads simplicity in its train. Knavery outwits honesty. Rapacious ambition, in the fair guise of patriotism: concealing its poiard under its skirt; smiling, and nodding, and cringing, and using "words smoother than oil," wins the hearts of the multitude; and is borne along on the tide of popularity and saluted with applause shouts. Faction is superseded by faction: demagogues alternately vanquished; and the people, the sport of villainous intrigues, each one ardently pursuing his own little selfish interests; all dreaming of sovereignty; all aspiring to the gods, suddenly fall, at last into the snares which had been prepared for them, and surrender themselves at discretion.

These are "hard sayings;" but the truth is sanctioned by the solemn testimony of history & experience. Balance.

ENGLISH MANNER OF MOWING WHEAT.
Mr. De Lisle introduced in England the mowing of Wheat, according to the following method.

THE scythe is at least six inches sharper in the blade than the common scythes; and instead of a cradle has two twigs of osier put semicircular wise into holes made in the handle of the scythe, near the blade, in such a manner that one semicircle intersects the other.

By this method of mowing wheat, the standing corn is always at the left hand.
The mower mows it inward, bearing the corn he cuts on his scythe, till it comes to that which is standing, against which it gently leans. After every mower follows a gatherer, who being provided with a hook or stick, about two feet long, gathers up the corn, makes it into a gavel, and lays it gently on the ground. This must be done with spirit, as another mower immediately follows.

A VALUABLE MILL FOR SALE.

THE subscriber wishes to sell his MILL, known by the name of Clifton Mill, within two and an half miles of Dun-fries, on the waters of Quantock, which is as constant a stream as any in this part of the country, and in an exceeding healthy situation; very conveniently situated to a fine wheat country, not being more than half a mile out of the way, in going to Dunfries, from the main road leading from Traquair Court-House, Centerville &c. (and by some thought not any out of the way at all) and a very good road to it. There are, if the purchaser chooses, 227½ acres of land which may go with mill, (except one acre which will be reserved) or a smaller quantity as may be agreed on. The mill is an over-shot, with a wheel of 20 feet 9 inches and 4 feet head, with two pair of Stones. One pair of French burrs of 5 feet, the other of Cologne, with every apparatus necessary for carrying on merchant business to the best advantage. The mill house is fifty feet long and twenty seven feet wide, two stories high, with a small kiln for drying corn, together with barn, stable, cow house and lumber house, convenient to the mill. A convenient dwelling house, (not quite finished) with a kitchen, meat and corn house; the whole of which have been built within 7 years past. There are two very thriving young orchards of peach and other fruit trees. It was supposed, had not the frost killed the fruit this spring, upwards of 100 gallons of barny might have been made from them. Should the whole of the land be required with the mill, there is another small house, kitchen and meat house, at a short distance from the former.

The situation of this property must render it a desirable acquisition to any person inclined to engage in this line of business, particularly so as it is situated so near tide water. It is deemed unnecessary to say any thing more respecting the premises, as it is presumed any person inclined to purchase would wish to see them. Nothing would induce me to part with this valuable property, but the pressing demands against me which I am anxious to discharge, therefore a great bargain may be expected. Any further information may be known on application to, JOHN SOWDEN, Clifton Mill.

Robert and John Gray
HAVE JUST RECEIVED A SUPPLY OF
Family & Patent Medicines, —CONSISTING OF—

Chambaud's Antasthmatic Lozenges; Ague and Fever Drops; Antibilious Pills; Anodyne Essence for Head Aches; Reanimating Solar Tincture; Dr. Bardwell's genuine Eye Water; Atkinson's Essence of Mustard; Scotch Ointment for the Itch; Tooth Ache Drops; Aromatic Lozenges; Essence of the Woods, &c. &c.

MATRIMONY.

IT is much to be regretted but indisputably certain, that many persons of both sexes are deterred from entering into the married state, by Secret Infirmities, which delicacy forbids them to disclose; and there are not a few who being already married, are rendered miserable for want of those tender pledges of mutual love, without which happiness in this state is at least very precarious. It has been ascertained beyond a doubt that those circumstances are occasioned by general or partial relaxation or weakness in either sex, and it is equally certain that the genuine AROMATIC LOZENGES OF STEEL are the best, if not the only remedy ever discovered for this species of debility. When taken into the stomach, they immediately dissolve and diffuse themselves like a vapor through every pore, producing effects at once delightful, salutary and permanent. When the spark of life begins to grow dim, the circulation languid, and the faculties paralyzed, these Lozenges are found to give tone to the nerves, exhilarate the animal spirits, invigorate the body, and re-animate the whole man. When aversion to exercise, loss or depravity of appetite, and palled countenance, indicate approaching consumption, the delicate female will be preserved and restored to health and society by the benign influence of this medicine. When the delusions of imagination, or youth into the dangerous labyrinth of secret sensuality, debilitated his body, and impaired his understanding, these Lozenges will protect him from lingering disease, the infirmities of premature old age, and a wretched dissolution amidst the agonizing reflections of conscious guilt. When the sons and daughters of dissipation have brought on themselves debility, relaxation, imbecility, and a long train of nervous affections, manifested by impaired memory, anxiety, agitation, tremors, languor, paleness, emaciation, indigestion, apathy in men; hysterics, spasms, loss of appetite, irregularity, weakness, abortion, pains in the back, chest, &c. in women; these lozenges will restore health and vigor to the debilitated frame, and cheerfulness and animation to the mind.

Price One Dollar per packet.

Particular directions for their use are sealed up with each, but as the great benefit to be derived from them can only be secured by having them genuine, the public are requested to observe that the signature of Messrs. Thos. Stokes and Co. are affixed to each packet, without which mark of authenticity, they are not genuine.

Dr. Atkinson's genuine Essence of Mustard.
Rheumatism in every stage, instantly submits to its penetrating powers, which has succeeded in curing the most desperate cases of rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sciatica, numbness, palsy and complaints of the stomach, after various medicines have proved ineffectual. It is prepared in pills, and also in a fluid state. The pills are particularly serviceable in flatulences and indigestion, and by their salutary operation, promote perspiration, and gradually undermine the most obstinate rheumatism; and, at the same time, invigorate the debilitated constitution. The fluid essence is a remarkable active embrocation, necessarily used with the pills, and as generally excites a tingling sensation; it removes the causes of pain, by bringing on a circulation in the parts affected; by this means, frozen limbs, the severest sprains and bruises, old strains and relaxations, are generally cured by a few applications. The genuine is distinguished from counterfeits, by the signature of Thomas Stokes and Co. being affixed to each bottle; without which mark of authenticity, none are genuine.

The genuine Scotch Itch Ointment.

The only medicine that cures this disagreeable disease, by one application, to many thousands having experienced its efficacy; it is unnecessary to add any more arguments in its favor, but to caution the public that the name Thomas Stokes and Co. is affixed to each box, without this mark of authenticity, none are genuine.

Dr. Bardwell's genuine Eye Water.

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the Eyes; speedily removes inflammation, dimness, itching, and films; it never fails to cure the maladies which frequently succeed the measles, small-pox, and fever; and is an unparalleled strengthener of a weak sight.

Dr. Hunter's genuine Antibilious Pills.
An agreeable and certain preventive of that predisposition to inflammatory and malignant fever, which prevails at particular seasons of the year. The rapid and increasing demand from every part of the United States, and the West-India islands, is the best evidence of their superiority or excellence.

CHAMBAUD'S
Antasthmatic Lozenges.

A radical cure for coughs, colds, asthma, and consumptions, difficulty of breathing, &c. &c.

Mr. CHAMBAUD, the sole proprietor of this medicine, has the satisfaction to announce that they have been the means of relieving many persons in a most precarious state of health. In common colds this medicine produces so salutary a perspiration that they generally are eradicated in a few hours. Coughing, being prolonged by that convulsive symptom termed the tickling in the throat, it shortens its duration by promoting sleep and strengthening the constitution. Pulmonary complaints, affecting the breast and lungs; those affected with them experience an almost immediate relief. Asthmatic and confined consumptions have repeatedly been eradicated by them. Infants in the hooping cough, and women during pregnancy, may take them without the least fear of danger, and with the greatest expectation of relief, nor can it be administered at an improper season.

Dr. BARDWELL'S

Anodyne Essence, for all kinds of Head Aches.

THE renowned virtues of the Anodyne Essence, is now so generally known, that it is no presumption in the Proprietor, to say, that Head Aches, arising from whatever cause, or however violent, instantly submit to its penetrating powers. This invaluable Anodyne, has frequently succeeded after the best advice, and every other remedy had failed; by its salutary operation, it insensibly promotes circulation and perspiration, and thereby prevents the return of the most obstinate periodical head aches.

Specific Drops for Deafness,

IS recommended as an inevitable Medicine, for the speedy relief of this most afflicting complaint, and is proved by long and extensive experience, to be absolutely unparalleled; for many years have these drops been used in Europe with amazing success. Those who are unacquainted with the great relief afforded by this invaluable Medicine, are earnestly recommended to try it. Few are the cases in which it has not been of great service, and has very often perfected a complete cure.

HOOPING COUGH.

To Parents who have Children afflicted with HOOPING COUGH.

THIS Medicine is of the greatest importance, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time, entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable. The Lozenges are so perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small, that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Further particulars of the Medicine above mentioned, will be hereafter inserted.
